Upholstered perfection

- Normann Copenhagen expands the Just Chair range, designed by Iskos-Berlin

Normann Copenhagen launches the simple and understated stackable shell chair in several upholstered versions. Just Chair is full of personality and character, further emphasised when upholstered in stunning colourful fabrics and lovely, soft leather. Just Chair is now available in four quality fabrics and durable leather, adding a whole new dimension to the chair.

Normann Copenhagen has carefully selected the materials for their attractive design as well as ensuring a durable result and a comfortable sitting experience. All the textiles are made of lovely wool blends with vivid expression, beautiful structures and plenty of play. In addition, they are all extremely durable and suitable for intensive use. The leather is both a luxurious and practical choice with its resistant finish making it easy to maintain.

The designer duo Iskos-Berlin has returned to the essence of the chair for Just. They have taken their reference point in the shape of the chair as typically drawn by a child, that is, with legs that seem to protrude directly from the seat. They have visually transferred this effect to the Just Chair, where a chrome frame has been uniquely tucked into the underside of the shell, transforming the chair to a harmonic, natural and unified whole.

Just Chair is just as beautiful when seen from below as from above. The frame is discretely tucked into the chair's moulded shell, and the shell's tapering thickness gives it a friendly and welcoming expression. The point where the legs and shell meet is done with incredible elegance and accentuates the high quality of the upholstering.

Just Chair is available in an array of colours and excellent qualities that make it suitable for numerous environments and styles. Just Chair has been awarded the prestigious Interior Innovation Award: Selection 2014.
